Vision and values

At Downview Primary School we want all children to achieve their best and lead happy, fulfilled lives. It is important to us that we recognise and acknowledge the individual strengths of our children as well as identifying their individual learning needs. We offer high quality teaching to support the inclusion of all children by making reasonable adjustments and adaptations within a broad and balanced curriculum. Those who are identified with Special Educational Needs and/or Disabilities (SEND) require careful consideration to enable them to access the curriculum effectively. We use our very best endeavours to provide personalised learning opportunities, removing barriers to learning to enable children with SEND to have a sense of achievement and progress. In addition, we provide excellent pastoral care to support the emotional well-being of the child. At Downview Primary School, we encourage all children to be 'kind, respectful and safe' as 'we grow and learn together every day'.

Aims and objectives

We are committed to offering an accessible and inclusive curriculum for all to ensure the best possible progress for our children. In implementing this policy, we believe that children with SEND will be fully supported through effective provisions enabling them to make progress in their learning. We embrace working collaboratively together with the child, parents/carers, teachers, support staff and where relevant, other professionals.

This policy aims to ensure:

- that all children have access to a broad and balanced curriculum with a focus on inclusive practice and removing barriers to learning
- provision of a curriculum that is appropriate to the individual's needs and ability
- the early identification of children requiring SEND provision and early intervention to support them
- that children with SEND are supported and able to engage in all school activities
- that the views, wishes and feelings of the child and their parents/carers are fully considered
- the child and parent/carer are kept informed of support, targets, progress and attainment
- a graduated approach for identifying, assessing, planning, providing and reviewing with the child at the centre of the process
- a strong focus on high aspirations and improving outcomes for our children
- collaboration between education, health and social care services to provide support for children and parents where needed
- the children are successfully prepared for the next stage in their lives, i.e. transition to the next year group, Key Stage and next school
- roles and responsibilities of everyone involved in providing for pupils with SEND are clear
- training and support for all staff in order to develop practice
- our school fully implements national legislation and guidance regarding pupils with SEND

Legislation and guidance

This is based on the statutory Special Educational Needs and Disability \(SEND\) Code of Practice and the following legislation:

- Part 3 of the Children and Families Act 2014, which sets out schools' responsibilities for pupils with SEND
- The Special Educational Needs and Disability Regulations 2014, which set out local authorities' and schools' responsibilities for education, health and care (EHC) plans, SEND co-ordinators (SENCOs) and the special educational needs (SEND) information report
- The Equality Act 2010 (section 20), which sets out the school's duties to make reasonable adjustments for pupils with disabilities
- The Public Sector Equality Duty (section 149 of the Equality Act 2010), which set out the school's responsibilities to eliminate discrimination, harassment and victimisation; and advance equality of opportunity and foster good relations between people who share a protected characteristic (which includes having a disability) and those who don't share it
- The Governance Handbook, which sets out governors' responsibilities for pupils with SEND
- The School Admissions Code, which sets out the school's obligation to admit all pupils whose education, health and care (EHC) plan names the school, and its duty not to disadvantage unfairly children with a disability or with special educational needs

Inclusion and equal opportunities

At Downview Primary School we strive to create an inclusive teaching environment that offers all pupils, no matter their needs and abilities, a broad, balanced and challenging curriculum. We are committed to offering all pupils the chance to thrive and fulfil their aspirations.

We will achieve this by making reasonable adjustments and adaptations to teaching, the curriculum and the school environment to make sure that pupils with SEND are included in all aspects of school life.

Definitions

Special educational needs

A pupil has SEND if they have a learning difficulty or disability that requires special educational provision to be made for them.

They have a learning difficulty or disability if they have:

- A significantly greater difficulty in learning than most others of the same age, or
- A disability which prevents or hinders them from making use of facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in mainstream schools

Special educational provision is educational or training provision that is additional to, or different from, that made generally for other children or young people of the same age by mainstream schools.

Disability

Pupils are considered to have a disability if they have a physical or mental impairment that has a substantial and long-term adverse effect on their ability to do normal daily activities.

The school will make reasonable adjustments for pupils with disabilities, so that they are not at a substantial disadvantage compared with their peers.

The 4 areas of need

The needs of pupils with SEND are grouped into 4 broad areas. Pupils can have needs that cut across more than 1 area, and their needs may change over time. Interventions will be selected that are appropriate for the pupil's particular area(s) of need, at the relevant time.

AREA OF NEED
Communication and interaction	Pupils with needs in this area have difficulty communicating with others. They may have difficulty understanding what is being said to them, have trouble expressing themselves, or do not understand or use the social rules of communication. Pupils who are on the autism spectrum often have needs that fall in this category.
Cognition and learning	Pupils with learning difficulties usually learn at a slower pace than their peers. A wide range of needs are grouped in this area, including: • Specific learning difficulties, which impact 1 or more specific aspects of learning, such as: dyslexia, dyscalculia and dyspraxia • Moderate learning difficulties • Severe learning difficulties • Profound and multiple learning difficulties, which is where pupils are likely to have severe and complex learning difficulties as well as a physical disability or sensory impairment
Social, emotional and mental health	These needs may reflect a wide range of underlying difficulties or disorders. Pupils may have: • Mental health difficulties such as anxiety, depression or an eating disorder • Attention deficit disorder, attention deficit hyperactive disorder or attachment disorder • Suffered adverse childhood experiences These needs can manifest in many ways, for example as challenging, disruptive or disturbing behaviour, or by the pupil becoming withdrawn or isolated.
Sensory and/or physical	Pupils with these needs have a disability that hinders them from accessing the educational facilities generally provided. Pupils may have: • A sensory impairment such as vision impairment, hearing impairment or multi-sensory impairment • A physical impairment These pupils may need ongoing additional support and equipment to access all the opportunities available to their peers.

Parents or carers

Parents or carers should inform the school if they have any concerns about their child's progress or development. Parents or carers of a pupil on the SEND register will always be given the opportunity to provide information and express their views about the pupil's SEND and the support provided. - Explaining what their strengths and difficulties are
- Contributing to setting targets or outcomes
- Attending review meetings
- Giving feedback on the effectiveness of interventions

The pupil's views will be taken into account in making decisions that affect them, whenever possible.

SEND information report

The school publishes a SEND information report on its website, which sets out how this policy is implemented in the school.

The information report will be updated annually and as soon as possible after any changes to the information it contains.

Our approach to SEND support

Identifying pupils with SEND and assessing their needs

Identifying and teaching children with SEND is a whole-school responsibility. The core of the teachers' work involves a continuous cycle of planning, teaching, and assessing, taking into account the differences in children's abilities, aptitudes, and interests. When children are identified as having SEND, the school will intervene at the earliest stage possible and will consult with parents/carers. We assess each pupil's current skills and levels of attainment when they start at the school. This will build on information from previous settings and Key Stages, where appropriate. We will also consider any evidence that the pupil may have a disability and if so, what reasonable adjustments the school may need to make

Children with SEND may need increased levels of provision and support. The class teacher remains responsible for working with and devising Individual Learning Plans for these children. At Downview Primary School we follow The Code of Practice 2015 and this advocates a graduated response to meeting pupils' needs. This is a four-part cycle- Assess, Plan, Do and Review. The teacher and/Senco will carry out assessments and the learning plan will identify targets and actions implemented to support the child's individual needs considering the use of practical resources, adapted teaching styles, support staff, small group tuition or 1 to 1 interventions. External support services may also contribute to the plan, providing information and advice for school and parents e.g Speech and language Therapist, Occupational Therapist or Educational Psychologist.

SEND Intervention can be triggered through concerns from the child, parents, teacher or SENCO, supplemented by evidence that, despite receiving adapted teaching, the child:

- Makes little or no progress over time and works at levels considerably lower than expected for a child of similar age
- Demonstrates difficulty in developing cognition and learning particularly with literacy and/or numeracy skills
- Shows persistent social/mental/emotional/ difficulties producing a barrier to their progress in learning

- Has sensory/physical problems, and makes little progress despite the provision of specialist equipment
- Has sensory or physical needs requiring additional specialist equipment or visits/advice from specialists
- Experience communication and/or interaction problems and make little or no progress despite experiencing an adapted curriculum (including Autism Spectrum Condition)
- Has social, communication or interaction problems that impede the development of social relationships (including ASC), thus presenting barriers to learning.

Slow progress and low attainment will not automatically mean a pupil is recorded as having SEND.

Potential short-term causes of impact on behaviour or performance will be considered, such as bullying or bereavement. Staff will also take particular care in identifying and assessing SEND for pupils whose first language is not English.

If a pupil is joining the school and their previous setting has already identified that they have SEND, they have reports from external agencies or are in receipt of an Educational Health Care Plan (EHCP) then the school will work in a multi-agency way to make sure we get relevant information before the pupil starts at school, so support can be put in place as early as possible.

Consulting and involving pupils and parents

The school will put the pupil and their parents at the heart of all decisions made about special educational provision.

When we are aiming to identify whether a pupil needs special education provision, we will have an early discussion with the pupil and their parents. These conversations will make sure that:

- Everyone develops a good understanding of the pupil's areas of strength and difficulty
- We take into account any concerns the parents have
- Everyone understands the agreed outcomes sought for the child
- Everyone is clear on what the next steps are
- Notes of these early discussions will be added to the pupil's record
- We will notify parents if it is decided that a pupil will receive special educational provision

Levels of support

School-based SEND provision

Pupils receiving SEND provision will be placed on the school's SEND register. These pupils have needs that can be met by the school through the graduated approach. Where the pupil's needs cannot be adequately met with in-house expertise, staff will consider involving an external specialist as soon as possible.

The provision for these pupils is funded through the school's notional SEND budget.

On the census these pupils will be marked with the code K.

Education, health and care (EHC) plan

Pupils who need more support than is available through the school's school-based SEND provision may be entitled to an EHC plan. The plan is a legal document that describes the needs of the pupil, the provision that will be put in place, and the outcomes sought.

The provision for these pupils will be funded from the school's notional SEND budget, and potentially from the LA (from the high-level needs funding block of the dedicated schools grant). On the census these pupils will be marked with the code E.

Evaluating the effectiveness of SEND provision

We evaluate the effectiveness of provision for pupils with SEND by:

- Tracking pupils' progress, including by using provision maps
- Carrying out the review stage of the graduated approach in every cycle of SEND support
- Using pupil questionnaires
- Monitoring by the SENCO
- Holding annual reviews for pupils with EHC plans
- Getting feedback from the pupil and their parents

Expertise and training of staff

Training will regularly be provided to teaching and support staff. The headteacher and the SENCO will continuously monitor to identify any staff who have specific training needs and will incorporate this into the school's plan for continuous professional development.

Links with external professional agencies

The school recognises that it won't be able to meet all the needs of every pupil. Whenever necessary the school will work with external support services such as:

- Speech and language therapists
- Learning and Behaviour Team
- Autism and Social Communication Team
- Educational psychologists
- Occupational therapists,
- General practitioners or paediatricians
- School nurses
- Child and adolescent mental health services (CAMHS)
- Mental Health Team – Thought-full
- Children's services including Enabling Families, Early Help Team and Social Services

Admission and accessibility arrangements

Admission arrangements

At Downview Primary we welcome parents/carers to visit the school prior to application. The SENCO is available to discuss any SEND needs prior to admission and is happy to talk through the resources and any adaptations that can be made to meet the needs of the child.

As stated in our Admissions Policy 'In the event of oversubscription, places will be offered using the following criteria:

Any child with an Educational Health Care Plan naming the school will automatically be admitted to a school, under section 43 Children and Families Act 2014.'

Accessibility arrangements

As stated in our Accessibility Plan, We aim:

- Not to treat disabled pupils less favourably for a reason related to their disability;
- To make reasonable adjustments for disabled pupils, so that they are not at a substantial disadvantage;
- To plan to increase access to the curriculum for disabled pupils; including teaching and learning, access to after school clubs run by school staff and school visits.

Complaints about SEND provision

Where parents have concerns about our school's SEND provision, they should first raise their concerns informally with the Class Teacher then SENCO. We will try to resolve the complaint informally in the first instance. If this does not resolve their concerns, parents are welcome to submit their complaint formally.

Formal complaints about SEND provision in our school should be made to the headteacher in the first instance. They will be handled in line with the school's complaints policy.

If the parent or carer is not satisfied with the school's response, they can escalate the complaint to be submitted in writing to the Chair of Governors. The Chair of Governors will acknowledge receipt of the complaint before considering it and issuing a final written response.

Monitoring and evaluation arrangements

Evaluating the effectiveness of the policy

We are constantly looking for ways to improve our SEND policy. We will do this by evaluating whether or not we are meeting our objectives set out in section 1.

We will evaluate how effective our SEND provision is with regards to:

- All staff's awareness of pupils with SEND
- How early pupils are identified as having SEND
- Pupils' progress and attainment once they have been identified as having SEND
- Whether pupils with SEND feel safe, valued and included in the school community
- Comments and feedback from pupils and their parents

Monitoring the policy

- This policy will be reviewed regularly by the SENCO . It will also be updated when any new legislation, requirements or changes in procedure occur during the year.
- It will be approved by the full governing board.
