

A decision to make....

For the next two weeks we will continue to look at endangered species in English, linked to our book 'Can we save the tiger?'

We would like you to decide on one you would like to focus your writing around. The endangered animal you choose should be one you are really interested in or maybe already know a lot about.

Please use this weekend to start researching and gathering information and small pictures on your chosen endangered animal. Copying and pasting key information from websites or printing off information is absolutely fine as this research will help your writing in class.

A great website:

https://www.worldwildlife.org/species/directory?direction=desc&sort=extinction_status

(This link is also available on our Year 6 page to click on and start your research.)